

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

[Great Yarmouth, United Kingdom, 07/04/2025] – Stowen Group, a leading organisation in the provision of inspection, repair, maintenance and project execution in the energy sector, on an international basis is pleased to announce management changes to its executive team.

Colin Stewart has been appointed as the new CEO and will play a pivotal role in driving the company's strategic initiatives, spearheading continued vertical growth and geographical footprint. Colin Stewart has a strong reputation for innovative thinking, exceptional leadership, and a deep understanding of the industry landscape.

In a strategic move, Stowen Group has appointed Kieron Ford as their new Chief Operating Officer. With a proven track record of success in the renewables industry, he brings a wealth of experience and expertise to Stowen Group with the focus on providing operational excellence and service delivery.

Kane Ford has been appointed Finance Director of Stowen Group. He has 8 years' experience working within the company and will play a crucial role as we seek to expand the geographical locations and verticals that Stowen services.

In Stowen's Oil and Gas Division, Mark Chandler has been appointed as the new Managing Director. With over 30 years' experience in the oil and gas industry covering operational management, supply chain and business development. His focus will be on delivery within our current geographic regions, new points of presence globally and partnerships supporting the continued growth of the business.

Gary Horner has been appointed Managing Director of Stowen Clean Energy, focusing on the delivery of services to the renewables market. He has nearly 40 years' experience in energy industry operations and specifically 14 years in renewables in a commercial and operational management capacity. His focus will be on the expansion of our renewable energy construction and O&M services and increase of our client base internationally.

Colin Stewart said of the new executive team, "I'm excited to announce the appointment of our new Board of Directors. This distinguished group of leaders brings a wealth of experience and strategic vision that will guide Stowen toward continued growth and success. With their diverse backgrounds and commitment to innovation, I'm confident they will help us navigate the future and achieve our goals. I look forward to working closely with them as we enter this exciting new chapter.”
